DESCRIPTION

MAORI 50

This day-cruiser has marked Maori brand story and success. Since the first sight, this vessel reminds the lines of a sailing boat; this because its creator has spent most of his career of captain on sailing boats. MAORI 50 has been built to be used under any sea conditions, as a matter of fact, it has excellent stability and seaworthiness, and it is very smooth on the waves thanks to its incredible hull. The open area is highly liveable with four sun-pads, two sofas, and a comfortable dining table covered by an awning. The interior is basic and comfortable, with a great sofa that turns into a wide bed, a small dinette and a toilet which can be produced both in the small and in the large replica watches version according to the client's needs. The walk around makes the ship very easy to be lived. The boat needs a very little maintenance, and side fenders grant a higher protection from collisions.
